

- ↳ Stateless → Stores state of users(payload) and uid(token) unlike statefull method stateless Auth. stores all the authentication information(user) inside token only generally created using JWT(Json web token)
- (don't store any data in Server s.e...)
- Memory efficient
 - Holds its state even after server restart
- to change or create any token or payload one secret Key is required.